ADVOCATE COMMUNITY PROVIDERS APPOINTS INDUSTRY VETERAN DAVID STEINMAN AS EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

New York, NY – January 24, 2017 – Advocate Community Providers (ACP) announced today the appointment of healthcare industry veteran David Steinman as Executive Vice President.

Mr. Steinman most recently served as a consultant to KPMG, providing subject matter expertise to a team that supported the New York State Department of Health in designing and launching the Delivery System Reform Incentive Payment (DSRIP) program. ACP is one of 25 Performing Provider Systems (PPSs) funded by DSRIP to transform the state's Medicaid program. With more than 30 years of experience at McKinsey, IBM, Ceridian, Navigant and other top companies, Mr. Steinman is highly respected for his leadership and expertise as an executive and consultant.

“Dave Steinman brings invaluable experience and expertise to our leadership team at Advocate Community Providers,” said Dr. Ramon Tallaj, ACP founder and chairman. “It is a testament to our development as DSRIP’s only physician-led PPS that we are able to attract someone of Mr. Steinman’s stature. We are delighted to welcome him.”

Mario J. Paredes, Chief Executive Officer of ACP, added: “with DSRIP year three fast approaching, we have made tremendous strides to build from the ground up. As our work becomes more complex, especially looking beyond DSRIP at a transformed, value-based healthcare landscape, ACP will benefit tremendously from David Steinman’s addition to our leadership team.”

“I strongly believe that ACP’s model – physician-led, community-based, culturally sensitive – is the most compelling and potentially disruptive in New York State’s DSRIP program,” said Mr. Steinman. “With the benefit of having observed all of the PPSs since the beginning of the DSRIP program, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to ACP’s mission to transform healthcare for New York’s most vulnerable populations through value-based preventive care delivered by primary care physicians.”

Mr. Steinman earned a B.A. from the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque; a J.D. from the Hofstra University School of Law; and an MBA from Cornell University.

About Advocate Community Providers

Advocate Community Providers (ACP) unites 2,000 individual, independent physicians with 950 hospital partners and community-based organizations dedicated to health, wellness and social services in lower-income, underserved Hispanic, Asian and African-American communities throughout New York City. Representing 650,000 patients across four boroughs of New York City, ACP was created in partnership with Northwell Health (formerly North Shore-Long Island Jewish Health System).

ACP's mission is to convene safety-net providers, partners and other stakeholders to create a culturally competent patient-centered, comprehensive and coordinated service care model to meet the needs of individuals and families participating in Medicaid. ACP is one of 25 Performing Provider Systems (PPS) in New York's Delivery Reform Incentive Payment program (DSRIP) to transform the State's Medicaid system. DSRIP's goals include reducing avoidable hospitalizations and ensuring that patients and their families with Medicaid switch to a community-based care system that emphasizes preventative care over reliance on the emergency room.
